DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

A pure, cream of tartar powder
Its fame is world wide
No alum; no phosphate of lime

The poisonous nature of alum is so well known that the sale of condiments and whiskey containing it is prohibited by law.

In buying baking powder examine the label and take only a brand shown to be made with cream of tartar.

All That Was Left.

A young married couple took a late train for Washington, intending to spend their honeymoon in rambling through the corridors of the capitol, Congressional library and other public buildings. The porter was awakening passengers at an unusually early hour that morning, and long before the train reached Baltimore he had them up. The groom told his bride that he would leave his coat and hat and retire to the smoking compartment of the train. He went out and met a friend, who asked him back into another car in order that he might meet a friend of his. Soon the conductor began making his rounds and taking up tickets. The young bride referred him to the smoking apartment, where, she said, her husband would be found. A moment later the conductor returned and informed her politely that the bridegroom was not to be found. The other passengers were startled by a loud shriek.

"My husband! Oh, my husband!" "Don't be alarmed, madam," said the conductor reassuringly. "Nothing has happened to your husband. He is probably in Baltimore. We dropped two sleepers at that point." And that was why friends of the young couple who went to the station in Washington to meet them saw only the bride clinging to an overcoat and a silk hat and wailing, "This is all there is left of him!"

What the Lunatic Thought.

A clergyman was suddenly called upon, away from home, to preach at a lunatic asylum, and he decided to make use of a favorite missionary sermon of his.

After the service, as the clergyman was leaving the chapel, one of the inmates stepped up to him and said: "That was a good sermon you gave us, sir."

The clergyman was pleased and replied:

"I am glad you liked it. What part in it especially interested you?" "Where you told about the mothers throwing their infants into the Ganges?" "Yes," said the clergyman, "that is very sad, but it is true, and we must do our utmost to enlighten those unhappy people, that they may turn from the error of their way."

"Yes, indeed," continued the lunatic, "we must. And all the time you were preaching I wondered why your mother hadn't thrown you into the river when you were small."—London Express.

He Was Not Discharged.

This incident happened several years ago: One of the big national banks in New York was clearing for a certain other bank that was in trouble, and every day the president of the clearing house bank would certify a couple of million dollars' worth of checks for the other. Finally the paying teller called his attention to the fact that he was taking a mighty long chance, but the president paid no attention to the hint. Then the teller informed the clearing house of the situation, and the president was called to book.

"Did my paying teller tell you that?" demanded the president.

"He did," replied the chairman of the clearing house committee.

"I shall discharge him at once," declared the president, bristling up with indignation.

"You do and we'll close your bank tomorrow," calmly replied the chairman.

Needless to say, the teller was not discharged.—New York Globe.

Explained Away.

He was staring fixedly at his soup, or, rather, at a foreign body which floated upon the surface thereof. Presently he drew forth a pocket magnifying glass and examined the thing still more critically.

"Walter," he shouted, "what does this mean? Here's a fly in my soup!" The waiter bent obsequiously forward and examined the derelict which floated on that greasy ocean.

"Bless your heart, sir," he exclaimed, "that ain't no fly! It's only a bit of dirt!"

And yet that diner left the restaurant, another striking example of sour unreasonableness.

The Time Allotted Us.

The time allotted us, if it were well employed, were abundant enough to answer all the ends and purposes of mankind, but we squander it away in avarice, drink, sleep, luxury, ambition, fawning addresses, envy, rambling voyages, impertinent studies, change of counsels and the like, and when our portion is spent we find the want of it, though we give no heed to it in the passage, inasmuch that we have rather made our life short than found it so.

Inappropriate.

"Why do you call young Kallow 'Cholly'?" His first name is Noah," said Towne.

"I know," replied Browne, "but that's so inappropriate. Noah had sense enough to get in out of the rain."—Philadelphia Press.

A Waiting Game.

"If he treats you so mean, why don't you get a divorce?"

"I'm waiting for his business to pick up so that I can get enough alimony to make it worth while."—San Francisco Call.

GOOD for OLD and YOUNG

August Flower keeps the children healthy and strong—Full of vigor and frolic the whole day long. So when Mamma needs more they rush off in high glee. And shout to the druggist: "Please give it to me!"

Inability to get up brisk and fresh in the morning, lack of appetite, pallor, muddy complexion and poor spirits—these all indicate a disordered stomach and bad digestion—in adults and children, too. They also indicate the urgent need of taking Green's August Flower regularly for a few days.

It's a reliable old remedy for all stomach troubles, never fails to cure indigestion, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and is a natural tonic for body and mind. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Democratic Victory Needed.

Hon. Levin Irving Handy, of Delaware, who by the way, is a nephew of Colonel Breckinridge, in a recent letter to the Lexington Herald, gives the following reasons why the country needs a Democratic victory this year: "The Republicans have had power too long. They have been corrupt, extravagant and autocratic. They are actually turning popular government into personal government. The government at Washington, dominated by one man is not only absorbing in itself the proper functions of our State governments, but has also started out to manage those affairs which in a free country it is wisest to let the individual citizens manage for themselves.

"We see business and industry wrecked and paralyzed. Capital is scared to death and labor is starving to death. The country needs a change and wants a change and the only way to get it is by a Democratic victory."
